

XCONNECT LISTED ON SUNDAY TIMES HISCOX TECH TRACK 100

RECOGNISED AMONG BRITAIN'S FASTEST-GROWING TECHNOLOGY COMPANIES FOR SECOND CONSECUTIVE YEAR

LONDON, 18 September, 2012 - XConnect, the leader in next generation interconnection and ENUM-registry services has been listed 34th on the annual Sunday Times Tech Track 100 published on September 16th. The list ranks Britain's 100 privately-owned technology, media and telecoms companies with the fastest-growing sales.

This is XConnect's second appearance on the list, with reported annual sales growth of 82 percent over three years. Earlier this year, XConnect announced that the company had seen revenues grow 61percent across all services. Traffic across its global network had increased by 85 percent. XConnect can name nine of the top 20 global telecoms operators based on revenue as customers including many of the largest broadband services providers, cable operators and over-the-top providers.

"It is a great honour for XConnect to be ranked in the Sunday Times Tech Track 100 for a second year. This has been made possible by the hard work and dedication of our highly skilled teams across the globe," said XConnect CEO Eli Katz. "I am particularly proud of our recent partnership with DE-CIX, the world's largest Internet Exchange, to launch the DE-CIX NGN service in Germany.

"Over the last twelve months we have continued to consolidate our market leading position for Next Generation Federation-based interconnection and Registry services. We have expanded the scope and application of our services to address emerging demands within new customer and market segments such as Video and Unified Communications. We are excited by the opportunities and potential this offers XConnect for further growth"
